Keynote Speaker – “Intercultural Competence is for Everyone”
Darla Deardorff, Executive Director of the Association of International Education Administrators, a national professional organization based at Duke University, where she is a Research Scholar in Education and an Educator for Duke Corporate Education, specializing in global leadership.

How do we connect with students, especially international students? What are the key dimensions for successful interactions with those from different backgrounds? Darla’s research-based intercultural competence framework defines the attitudes, knowledge, and skills needed to be more successful in working with students. This framework is applicable in different cultural contexts and can be used to guide curriculum and assessment, as well as to raise questions for further research and discussion. This interactive talk will explore intercultural competence as key to connecting with all students and core to internationalization efforts.
